Prayer Penned by Ravi Z in 2016

God, our heavenly Father, our minds go back to the day when Jesus knelt beside his beloved city and wept, "If you, even you, had only known on this day what would bring you peace—but now it is hidden from your eyes" (Luke 19:42). We sense so deeply the same reality. We weep for our cities even as we bury our dead. The sound of gunfire is the grim sound of what has already shattered our relationships. We are witnesses of distrust, revenge, and anger. We see no one to lead us and guide us. To whom shall we go?

Our differences seem to lead us even farther apart. Oh, Lord of miracles, do what only you can do to save us from ourselves. Give us men and women who will lead us to reconciliation. Give us leaders who will bind us up to heal our wounds, not those who will only incite more hate. Give us voices that will bring hope and not despair. Please comfort the bereaved and give humility to the ones who are resistant to your ways. Give us pause so that we might sit back for just a few moments to look to you before we look at our impulsive solutions.

We shed another's blood when we are without answers. You shed your own blood as our only answer. We kill, buried in despair. You rise, giving us hope. You told Peter to put back his sword and you restored the one wounded. That's what we long for. A reprimand to the one who would injure and a healing within the one injured. God of miracles, please do it again. We need you. Our nation needs you. Our leaders need you. Many a home today will not have a loved one returning. Without you we have no hope. With you all things are possible—even for beauty to come out of ashes. We pray for the day of unarmed truth and unconditional love. Please answer our prayer.

In the name of Jesus your Son, our only Savior, we ask this. Amen.

*US Senate Chaplain Asks God to 'Inoculate Our Nation against Hate, Sin and Despair' - "...We weep because justice delayed is justice denied. We weep because of the paralysis of analysis that often impedes Your prevailing providence. We weep because of our personal culpability during these tragic times. We weep because of our sins of commission and omission. We weep because we know You are weeping..." -Chaplain Barry C. Black

*Lecrae, Hundreds of Christians and Pastors Gather for: 'A Call to End Racial Violence' - "I am all for the idea that the Gospel is what changes hearts. But the Gospel is both explicit and implicit. The Gospel is in the form of the cross. The cross is vertical but it is also horizontal. So there has got to be some horizontal implications in what you believe, taking action in your churches, in your communities and in your jobs." -Lecrae, Christian Hip-Hop Artist - After a week of protests and riots following George Floyd's death, hundreds of Christians and hip-hop artist Lecrae gathered in Atlanta with hopes of calling out for the end of racial violence.
